THE DRIFT AGAINST THE PEOPLE.

One of the most marked features of these disordered times, and one of the worst omens for the time to come, is the fact that the entire drift of things, politic and economic, is against the people. This is an era of great combinations, large monopolies, and generally of mighty things, but all the might, the combinations, the monopolies are against the people—against their interests, their security, their well-being—and serve and were designed to strengthen, prop up, and magnify favored classes. It needs no great penetration or thought to foresee that such a tendency, carried to its full logical results, must be deeply injurious to the public welfare, for it is to be remembered that that welfare depends upon the prosperity of the great mass of the people, and not upon the prosperity of the comparatively few. The last few years have been years of amazing wealth to large numbers of individual men, and upon it they have grown fat and insolent and powerful, and that fatness, insolence, and power of the few comparatively are used to oppress, override, and impoverish the many. This is the natural tendency of vast wealth in the hands of small minorities, against which great majorities—the multitude—have to fight, with tremendous odds against them. This begets a constant war between wealth and poverty, between the opulent bondholder and the struggling taxpayer, between the great body of the people and the favored few, made proud, over-bearing, ambitious, and dictatorial by riches, and begetting at the same time a spirit of authority and absolutism which ill comports with the boasted equality and simplicity of Americans and American ideas. This spirit is now running away with us as a nation, and is working incalculable injury in many ways, and in every shape in which its power is felt bears down heavily and unjustly upon the people. Against this prevailing and growing spirit the people as such—the many—need protection, and it is one of the first duties of a statesman, or any one who has sagacity enough to deserve that title, to undertake it. If he does not at least strive to give such protection, he knows not his office or his place, and is unfaithful to the trust committed to him, which is, in part at least, to keep up the balance of power between the rich and the poor, to shield the people from the aggressions of ambitious wealth, and to see to it that they are not overborne by rising combinations of power of any kind.

We find some excellent thoughts on this subject in a recent issue of the Round Table, (Radical,) which we quote from as follows, showing the class of men that become our rulers, and how, and the consequences to the great body of the people:

"Some of them carry their devil-may-care aspirations to new Territories and sow the seed of empire far West, anticipating the time when the West joins again the far East; returning after awhile to their old homes, some to the Senate, others to the House, others to speculations in Wall street, brimful of the freebooter's spirit; and, while they play on the thousand-stringed harp of the demagogue, striving in truth for booty, spoils, power, self. Thus, while everywhere on this vast continent, from Maine to Nevada, from Georgia to Alaska, from Wall and State streets to the gold and silver mines of California and Colorado, a few strong men, more daring, lucky, and successful than the rest, got the upper hand, leagued together with Congressmen for railways and other monopolies, and actually are the rulers of the country, because they control its legislation and handle its resources, the so-called middle classes, who in Europe keep up the balance of social power, are fast disappearing among us, and gradually merging with the masses of the poor, 'the rich becoming richer, the poor poorer.'

"Meanwhile, too, the principles of humanity, so much dwelt upon by our rhetoricians, demagogues, and gushing journalists, are practically so commonly violated in trade that last week a Boston shopkeeper did not shrink from coolly telling Dr. Lewis that, with the starvation wages which he doles out to his workwomen, and with the recumbent position in which they are confined during their labors, the poor creatures became cripples for life after two or three years' service! In truth, on close examination of many of the business establishments in this Republic, it will be found that the promise of happiness held out by the Declaration of Independence to the children of Columbus too often vanishes as soon as they seek honest employment.—Some philosophers think that as this has always been so it must continue to be, but surely we who talk so much about freedom should look to its effects, and when we find the weaker classes no better protected against the strong by democracy than by less happy systems, and faring still worse, inasmuch as they are expected to find in political sentimentalities a compensation for their sufferings, it behooves the thinkers of the age to turn aside from abstractions and glittering generalities, and to concentrate their attention upon concrete facts.

There are certainly bright spots in our civilization—such as the deeds of charitable men, who vest their fortunes in public institutions, and who endow libraries, colleges, and churches. But it is not charity that is so much needed, nor meteoric freaks of princely magnanimity, as greater justice in the daily business intercourse between fellow-beings. When the general animus is that of uncompromising hardness and greed, and when the rich man acquires his wealth by grinding the life out of thousands of laborers upon whose toil he rides to fortune, the good which is done by wholesale charities has only the effect of a death-bed repentance, and works the evil of making the poor depend upon benevolence when their self-respect demands—that they should depend solely upon justice."—Nat. Intelligencer.

The Court has been busily engaged on the State docket during the past week.—The most important case was that of the State vs. Andrew Davis, colored, charged with the burning of Dr. Pressley's house. The State was represented by Col. Jno. F. Hoke and Judge Osborne, and the defendant by Hons. N. Boyden and J. H. Wilson. After patient investigation and able arguments, both for and against, the jury rendered a verdict of guilty.—Char. Times.

Largest amount of Losses to Widows and Orphans!

The Largest Revenue to the States. And has by far the largest number when compared with 58 Companies reported officially by the Commissioners of New York and Massachusetts it will be seen that the Ætna ranks as one of the first Companies of the Continent. But two of the fifty-eight Companies permitted to do business in New York and Massachusetts had so large an income for the year 1868; but two had so large a number of Policies in force, but one among all those incorporated under the laws of the State of New York had so small a per centage of Expense to Income during the year 1868.

Its expenses are lower than most Companies', and consequently its ability to make and pay liberal dividends to the insured is greater than that of most other Companies. It is one of the great Companies of the land in Income, in Assets, in Number of Policies, in Amount Insured, in Solidity and Strength, in Soundness, Cheapness, Promptness, and Success. Persons contemplating this mode of investment in the future as in the past would do well to examine the claims of all and take a policy accordingly.

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 26, 1869.

CHESTERFIELD AND DR GRISSOM.

Railing is said to be a relief to angry minds. We hope our mad Doctor at the Lunatic Asylum feels better after the experiment.

The Doctor's Card in to-day's Standard is manifestly repugnant to every rule laid down by Chesterfield for the government of a gentleman, whether he be the Keeper of a Mad House, the occupant of a cabin, or, like Cebe Harris, of a Palace.

There are enough madmen where the Doctor abides, without his going mad, and if he don't cool off, even the inmates of the Asylum may find out that the Governor has not yet solved the problem of finding the "right man for the right place," for the management of the Lunatic Asylum. The Doctor's sensitiveness is as irrational and extraordinary, as his Card is repugnant to every rule of Chesterfield.

The causes of offence as we learn from his Card, are three: First. Disrespect to the Doctor himself. 2. Untruthfulness in our statement of his invitation to white and black to dine with him. 3. Public allusion to a private dinner party.

There are only a few lines and sentences of our own in the editorial which gave offence. Most of it is taken from Chesterfield and copied literally from the book. So it is Chesterfield, who is disrespectful to the Doctor, and not the Sentinel.

Ten years ago we heard one of the Doctor's intimate friends say, he took for his model in manners Chesterfield; for his model in public speaking, Judge Reade.

His model in speaking was so well imitated, that we have heard the plain people of Granville compliment the Doctor by saying "he speaks exactly like Judge Reade." We now incline to the opinion that we had better let good manners go with the Constitution if we are thus to be assailed, we will not say blackguarded, for republishing the long taught and oft followed rules of my Lord Chesterfield upon good breeding.

TRUTHFULNESS OF THE EDITORIAL.

For this we cannot vouch. We candidly confess to getting our facts second handed from General Dockery, who was one of the invited guests, and spoke to divers persons on the subject, giving full account of the whole matter, and generally complimenting the Doctor, by saying, he showed more moral courage than he (Dockery) could have shown in getting clear of Howe, the colored man.

We don't think Gen. Dockery mistated the facts. We can but believe that the four gentlemen who gave us the facts second handed, told the tale as it was told to them. One of our informants heard the facts from "Uncle" John Harrison, who was also of the invited guests.

We deny with both hands, the charge of "untruthfulness" in the narrative, and for the vindication of our statement we stand Gen. Dockery against Dr. Grissom, and we don't care which falls.

PUBLIC ALLUSION TO A PRIVATE DINNER PARTY.

The Lunatic Asylum is a public house.—The Doctor, its Keeper, a public functionary. The Committee invited to dine were all public men, who give tone, and turn to public sentiment, as expressed by Radical carpet-bag doings and proceedings, preparations and projects. We thought then and we think now, that there was not a shadow of impropriety in alluding to them and their dinner.

The announcement of private dinings, the publication of the toasts drank, and the names of the invited guests are of daily occurrence, and hence, as an Editor, we take no shame to ourself for having alluded only in a slight way, not to toasts drank or the bill of fare, but to the fact that Howe, the colored "man and brother" was invited to dine with the Committee and then notified that he could not sit at table with them. After which notification, Howe, hat in hand with grateful humiliation withdrew.

The Doctor takes special pains to make only a general denial. It would have more become his candor, if he had stated in what particulars our's (Gen. Dockery's) was untrue.

We cordially unite with the Doctor in deprecating and condemning the action of the press when it dares to invade the sanctity of the social circle. In this the Doctor is not aggrieved. We have since the publication of the article which aroused the Doctor to ire, consulted gentlemen who know Chesterfield by instinct better than the Doctor knows it by his much reading, that it is no invasion of the social circle.—The truth is the Doctor is angered because he is behind in the social revolution which is now going on.

The aspiration of the negro is for social equality. The Doctor and his party have admitted his equality before God and the law. That being conceded, Cuffee will battle hard for his social equality. Two very young and very pretty white girls in the Doctor's county have recently married two very black negroes.

The Governor of South Carolina, we are informed, gives public receptions to colored people, often making the company a mixed one of white and black of both sexes.

Some smart negroes have deceived the Doctor and the Governor, by decrying social equality and denying that they are for it. These smart negroes say they are equal to the white before God and the law. The active humanitarians of the Doctor's party North, declare it is "treason to God" to deny the equality of the races.

The negro who can sit in the councils of the State and the nation, by the side of Dr. Grissom and can like Galloway, the distinguished leader of the party, sit in the Electoral College among the statesmen of the nation and then admit that he is too unclean or unfit to sit at table with them, or with a Penitentiary Committee after associating with them in its location, admit that he is from any cause unfit to sit with the same men at the same table, is a creature so base that it is folly to call him a brute.

The truth is, the Doctor is talked about as the next Radical candidate for Congress. To have admitted Howe to the table would have offended the whites, to exclude him offends the blacks, and thus is the Doctor lost between Scylla and Chybdis.

PROSTITUTION OF THE JUDICIARY.

We publish, from the Old North State, a long and able article which places Judge Brooks and Gov. Holden in a very unenviable light. This article merits the serious attention of every man in the State.—The people have no remedy but exposure of the Judge and the Governor. Littlefield and the Standard, now do the Bankrupt printing, while Littlefield pockets the money, the Judge and the Governor must pocket the odium, which the article fastens upon both.

Such blows, coming from Hon. Lewis Hanes, are the more telling because of his well known moderation in all things, and his charity to all men and all parties. We have, heretofore, forborne to speak of Judge Brooks, and even now we submit the case as made up by Hanes without comment.

In the reign of Edward the First, all of the Judges of England, including the Lord Chief Justice, were seized and thrown into prison for judicial corruption, in taking money from suitors. All of them, except two, were found guilty, and dismissed from office. Their successors were required to swear, when entering on office, "that they would take no bribe, nor money, nor gift of any kind, from such persons as had suits depending before them, except a breakfast."

From the Old North State, March 19th.

JUDGE BROOKS AND THE BANKRUPT PRINTING.

We stated last week that this functionary had attempted a defense of his course in relation to the bankrupt printing through the columns of the Standard. We further stated that this defense of himself by the Judge was simply drivelling—contemptible. We publish the defense itself elsewhere this week, and shall proceed to show that it is what we said it was.

To do this it becomes necessary briefly to review the history of the matter. Among the first publications of notices in bankruptcy in North Carolina were made in the Old North State about the 1st of November, 1867, in the case of John F. Butt and P. J. Sinclair, of Charlotte. As soon as Governor Holden, then editor and proprietor of the Standard, saw these notices he announced through his paper, that such notices, to be valid, must be published in the Standard or the Asheville Pioneer. Whether Governor Holden was weak enough to believe this, under the promptings of his own private interests, or whether he intended to obscure the visions of the feeble District Judge we will not now undertake to decide. The only defense, however, which we have ever heard made of the Judge's conduct in the matter is, that he did allow Gov. Holden "to pull the wool over his eyes," and deceive him into the belief that the law really required him to issue an order directing the messengers to make such publications only in the papers referred to; and that he did not possess the force of character and strength of intellect necessary to enable him to acknowledge, and to extricate himself from the error when once convicted of it. "A great Judge," said his defender, "seeks light from every quarter and takes the greatest pleasure in acknowledging and correcting an error, but a weak one generally adheres to his error, when convinced of it, under the mistaken notion that it is an acknowledgement of his conscious weakness to confess and repair it." And the gentleman who made this defence of the Judge is an able and thorough Republican and his personal friend.

About the same time that Gov. Holden made the above announcement in the Standard he also announced that some time during the term of the Circuit Court, then in session, Judge Brooks would make and publish an order directing notices in bankruptcy to be published only in the Standard and Pioneer in accordance with the positive requirements of, not the Bankrupt but, the Appropriation Law. We paid no attention to the Standard's statements at the time, not believing it possible that Judge Brooks could be gulled into the belief that the bankrupt printing was controlled by another law on a wholly different subject, enacted previous to the Bankrupt Law, which is a code complete and perfect within itself. A few days later, however, we received a message from a Republican friend at Raleigh informing us that what the Standard had said was really true—that Judge Brooks actually contemplated making such an order on the grounds stated. In behalf of ourself, and other publishers, we employed counsel—Hon. S. Boyden and Hon. A. S. Merrimon—to raise the question and argue it before the Court. We were present during Mr. Boyden's and a part of Judge Merrimon's argument, between whom and his Honor there was considerable colloquy.

No one seemed to be more anxious than Judge Brooks that the whole matter of the printing, in all voluntary cases, should be left with the Registers. He professed to be very sorry—to regret exceedingly that the law confined the Judge and the Registers to the two papers selected to publish the laws of the United States in which to have the printing done, but it was nevertheless clear to his mind that it did so confine him. He thought it very wrong that those two papers should have the entire monopoly of the printing—that the interest of all parties required that it should not be so—that the objects for which the notices were ordered to be published would, in a great number of instances be defeated by it—but the law had left him no discretion in the matter. His attention was then called to the enormous rates which the Standard was charging for the bankrupt advertising, and he was informed that it could and would be done for one half the Standard's prices, if that paper was not allowed, in connection with the Pioneer, to have a monopoly. His Honor admitted that the Standard's rates were too high, and said he would take that matter into consideration, and himself regulate the prices in the order which he contemplated making in relation to the matter.

On the next day, when Mr. Merrimon was arguing the question, the Judge repeated all that he had said the day before, but still insisted that the case was clear to his mind, that the law left him no discretion in the matter, and that he would file and publish "a written opinion" to that effect. That "opinion" was not published as promised. We subsequently called for the "Opinion," but we might as well have "called spirits from the vasty deep"—it was not forth-coming, and never will be. We again call for the "opinion," and we not only call for it, but we defy Judge Brooks to publish any such an "Opinion." There was not a lawyer present in the Circuit Court when the question was argued, Democratic, Conservative or Radical, that did not differ with the Judge. There is not a lawyer of any note in the United States that agrees with him. The author of the law, Mr. Jenckes, is against him, as the Judge knew when he made the order. Every member of the Committee on the revisal of the law in the 40th. Congress is against him, as we know from a letter from one of its most distinguished members. In fact, with the single exception of Gov. Holden we have never heard of a man of any pretensions who was not against him, and he was largely interested.

The question was argued before the Circuit Court in the latter part of November 1867, and about the middle of December the Judge published in the Standard his rules of practice in the Courts of Bankruptcy. From these rules we make the following extract:

"RULE 2. The following newspapers are designated as those in which all publications required by the Act, entitled "An act to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States," or the General Orders in Bankruptcy may be made in the District of North Carolina: The "Standard," published at Raleigh, and the "Pioneer," published at Asheville, N. C."

From the terms of the rule we would be left in doubt as to whether the Judge was acting in pursuance of the requirements of positive law, or whether he "designated" the Standard and the Pioneer in the exercise of an arbitrary discretion, were it not for his declarations at the time the question was argued before him. Of course if he had become satisfied that he possessed any "discretion" in the matter he would, as he was so anxious to do, have left the whole matter with the Registers in all voluntary cases, would be not? We shall see before we get through with this article. But not one word in his rules or orders concerning or regulating the prices, as promised. He rules that the publications shall be made only in two papers, and then hands the unfortunate bankrupts and their creditors over to the tender mercies of the man who owns one and controls the other in the matter of these charges. And we say without fear of contradiction that Gov. Holden, and his successors in the ownership of the Standard, have taken advantage of the power placed in their hands by this ruling of Judge Brooks to extort from the bankrupts and their creditors the sum of at least $40,000 over and above what it would have cost them to have had the printing done but for said rule.

The very same number of the Standard which contained the Judge's rules also contained the prices for which notices in bankruptcy would be published, strictly in advance. Those terms were kept standing in the Standard for sometime, and were just twice what it now charges, viz: For notice of petition and first meeting $12.00. Appointment of assignee, $6.00. 2nd and 3d meeting of creditors, $3.00 each. Petition for discharge, $8.00. Total for all the notices in each case in bankruptcy, $42.00. On the 30th of December, '67, we reviewed the Judge's ruling in the matter with some severity, in which we specially called his attention to these enormous rates, and informed him that the Old North State and the other papers of the State would publish the notices for just half the sum. We sent the Judge a copy of the paper containing the article, and we have reason to believe that he received and read it—he informed a friend of ours that he did. But our offer to publish the notices at half the Standard's rates was based upon the then length of the notices.—Since that time they have been made much shorter. The form of the advertisements was retained until the 18th of September, 1868, or about nine months, so that in every case published during that time the Standard was enabled to extort by means of its monopoly just twice as much as the work was worth—twice as much as others would have gladly done it for, or twenty-one dollars from every bankrupt in whose case all the notices were given. But suppose the notices for a discharge were not given in most of the cases the bankrupt has still paid $17 more than the work done was worth. Suppose there were one thousand cases up to the time of the change—and there were probably many more—and the Standard, it will be seen, extorted the nice little sum of $17,000 from those who had gone into bankruptcy up to Sept. 18th, 1868. To this sum may be added a considerable amount for those cases in which the notice of petition for discharge had been given.

Now figures don't lie, and of course the reader is anxious to know what Judge Brooks has to say in defense of himself in having allowed the perpetration of such a swindle as this. Let them turn to it and read for themselves. He does not pretend to say that he was in total ignorance of what was going on, but that he was not "officially informed of what the charges demanded really were." The amount of the charges was a matter as notorious as anything could be. Judge Brooks read the Standard and there saw for himself what charges were being made. He was informed at the time he made the rule what the Standard was charging, and promised to see to and regulate the prices so that nothing more than a fair compensation should be allowed. Yet, after admitting his power to remedy the evil, and promising to do so, he utterly fails to do anything of the kind until forced to do it.

In the month of August 1868, Judge Brooks held a term of the District Court in this place, and while here our counsel, Mr. Boyden, approached him and made another effort to get him to amend his rules so as to leave the matter at the discretion of the Registers, the bankrupts and their counsel. He suggested to the Judge that, as the bar was generally against him in the matter, he consult his associate on the Circuit Court bench, Chief Justice Chase, and be governed by his opinion as to the law. The Judge thanked him for the suggestion and readily, nay eagerly, promised to adopt it. He again repeated all that he had said before and manifested much anxiety to turn the matter over to the Registers. If the law had not made it imperative upon him to do so he would have scorned to have interfered in the matter at all—if he were a Judge of our Superior Courts and it were proposed to him to make an order that the Clerk should give notice to non-resident defendants in any particular paper, he would resent it as an insult—he would always leave the matter in the hands of the clerk and the parties or their counsel—and this case he would treat in the same way if he only had the power, and he hoped to be convinced that he had it. The matter went on until about the first of October 1868, when, at our suggestion, our counsel wrote to the Judge on the subject. In his reply the Judge said that he had, as yet, received no answer from Judge Chase, but argued that it would be best that the notices be published in some particular paper, designated for that purpose, so that those interested might know where to look for such notices. When we read the letter we saw that he was anticipating Judge Chase's decision, and that he was determined that the Standard should have the printing in any event and at all hazards. We were firmly convinced of this notwithstanding the Judge was very severe upon the Standard in his letter—had no sympathy with it—had discontinued his subscription to it for two months before—was very Conservative, but could not quite vote for Seymour and Blair, &c. (As to Blair we can't say we blamed him.) A short time afterwards—Oct. 6—he wrote another letter to another party in which he admitted his right to take the printing from the Standard and give it to another paper, and said he was somewhat disposed, if he concluded to make a change, to select the Old North State as one of the papers for the publication of the notices, it he could be assured that it had a general circulation in the State. Of course the Judge knew that it had no circulation east of Raleigh, hence the condition. But to return to the matter of charges again, the Judge says in his defense that on the 16th of September, 1868, he made an order requiring the Marshalls, Assignees and Clerks to pay no higher rates for the publication of such notices as the law required to be published in newspapers than were charged by the newspapers of the State for publishing State Court advertisements. This seems at first blush to be all right and fair, but the fact is that at this point commences the grossest abuse connected with the whole matter. Instead of publishing the notices at the rates charged for the publication of State Court orders the "Standard" very coolly proceeded to charge at least one hundred and fifty per cent more than the price usually charged by the papers of the State for the publication of such advertisements.

The cash rates for publishing Court orders six weeks, vary from $6 to $8. A number of papers, including the Statesville American, the Milton Chronicle, the Old North State and several others, publish them for $7 when the cash accompanies the order. The Asheville papers publish them for $8, and the Greensboro papers for $6. Seven dollars may, therefore, be regarded as the average cash price for such notices.—Where payment is not made in advance the price is generally $10. Upon the making of the September order the Standard announced the following as the prices, and enacted them of the Marshalls, viz: For notice of Petition and firs meeting of creditors, $10, Appointment of Assignee, $5; for second and third general meeting of creditors, $6 each; petition for discharge, $6. Total in each case, $33. This would seem to be a reduction of $9 from former prices, but is, in reality, a large addition. This is so for the reason that after the making of the order the form of the notice was made just one inch shorter, taking off about one third of the space required for notices of petition, and nearly or quite one half of that required for the others.

The first form used in giving notice of petition and first meeting of creditors was about the length of Court orders on an average, and if the Standard had retained that form and published it six times instead of three it would have been entitled, under the Judge's order of the 18th of September, to charge $7 therefor, whereas it, in fact, charged $10 for publishing a form nearly or quite one third shorter three times. Was there ever a more audacious imposition practiced upon a weak and over confiding Judge than that presented by this case? We say a weak and over confiding Judge because we are willing to allow him every defense that can possibly be made him. If the first form had been retained the Standard would have been justifiable in charging $5 for three insertions, just half as much as it charged for publishing a much shorter one.

For the form now in use it could not, with due regard to the order, have charged more than $4 and the other notices in proportion. We hazard nothing in saying that the papers of the State would gladly do the work for these rates, it is fully as much as our regular rates for all kinds of ordinary advertising, and more than we get for much that we do. At these rates all the notices required to be given in each case would amount to about $14, but for which the "Standard" actually charged $33, making a difference of $19 in every case. This last order remained in force up to about the 10th of January last, and the probability is that up to that time another thousand cases had been disposed of—certainly there had been more than two thousand from the commencement of the practice up to that time—which adds $19,000 more to the "Standard's" extortions, making a grand total of $36,000. We deduct nothing from the last thousand for the notices for a discharge as they were being made all the time in the first cases. Add to the above sum the extortions which have been made since the 10th of January, and we have no doubt it will increase the amount of the "Standard's" extortions to more than 40 000 dollars. The prices which the "Standard" is now charging would be reasonable if the first forms of notices had been retained, but for the present forms it is charging seven dollars more than the regular rates of the "Old North State" in every case. The notices of petition make two squares—not quite by our rate—the other notices average about a square, those for meeting of creditors are generally a little more, those of Assignees generally a little less, as shown by a number of them now lying before us in various numbers of the "Standard."

We have shown Judge Brooks how he has been shamefully treated by the "Standard" in its taking advantage of his ignorance and good nature to swindle an unfortunate class with whom he must be supposed sympathises very deeply. Will he now take the printing from that paper and leave it to the papers of the State generally whereby the bankrupts and their creditors may have justice done them? No, never while there is any printing to be done.

About the 1st of January last a paragraph appeared in one of the papers of the State saying that Judge Brooks had rescinded the order requiring the notices in bankruptcy to be published in the "Standard" and Pioneer, and that thereafter the matter would be left with the Registers and the parties interested. Upon this statement an eminent attorney of this city approached us, and informed us that the Register of this District, Mr. Broadfield, had about one hundred cases on hand in which the notices would have to be published soon, many of whom were his clients, and asked us to say what was the lowest figures at which we would make the publications. We agreed, if Judge Brooks would give his consent, to publish all the notices required in every case for ten dollars a case, or at corresponding rates if we did not do the whole. This offer, we have reason to believe, and do believe, was communicated to Judge Brooks with no other result than to cause him to make an order authorizing the "Standard" to do it for twenty-one dollars, just eleven dollars more in each case than we offered to do it for. Yes, one hundred men of this Congressional District have, since the 1st. day of January been compelled by an arbitrary order of Judge Brooks to pay to the Raleigh "Standard" eleven hundred dollars more than it would have cost them to have had the same work done much more effectually in the "Old North State.

From the statements which we have made the bankrupts and their creditors can see how outrageously they have been swindled—who has grown rich upon their misfortunes and who is to blame for it!—The official conduct of Judge Brooks caused it all—of this there can be no doubt. His order in relation to the publication, made in December 1867, was made against the opinion of every lawyer who practiced in his Court, as far as known, including the U. S. District Attorney—against the known opinion of the author of the Bankrupt law, and has been continued, and in the face of the fact that Judge Blatchford, of New York, has acted differently in asserting his right to designate whatever papers he chose in which to have the printing done. Since then, complaints have been made to the Judge by many "prominent members of the bar," as we learn from letters written by Judge Brooks himself, which lay before us as we write, urging him to take the printing from the Standard and assuring him of his right to do so. In the face of all this he has persisted, and still persists, in leaving it with that paper. We shall not characterize his conduct nor speak of his motives, but leave every man to judge of them for himself.

We have not been governed by any partizan feelings in making this exposure. We would have made it just as readily had Judge Brooks been a Conservative and the Standard a Democratic paper. We are not regarded by those who know us as a strong partizan, but as one who can do justice to men of all parties.

Explanatory Drawing.—The Drawing by the Real and Personal Estate Agency, anxiously looked for by persons who had taken stock, came off on Saturday, according to published programme. The weather was weeping, but the expectant people were not deterred by that, and went in numbers to Tucker Hall to watch the operation. A good deal of excitement was caused when the owners of lucky tickets claimed their prizes as their number was drawn.

J. M. Blair, Esq., of the Yarborough House, drew the $650 piano; Mr. Wesley Whitaker drew a $50 china set, and Mrs. Pepper, wife of the caterer, drew a $12 hearth rug. Very many of the tickets were sold out of town, and we have not the names of the holders. Every one was satisfied with the arrangements of the drawing, and this augurs well for the grand drawing of which this is explanatory.—Standard.

THE SENTINEL.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 26, 1869.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Read the announcement of N. C. Personal and Real Estate Agency in regard to a drawing to come off on Saturday June 5th.

WE direct special attention to the advertisement of the Brooklyn Life Insurance Company. This Company possesses many advantages and attractive features, and is fast becoming popular in all sections of the State.

COL. SANFORD.—This worthy gentleman, so long the President of the Petersburg and Weldon Railroad, is now at the Yarborough House. North Carolina has, for some time, received the benefits of his skill and energy as a civil Engineer. We saw, in his possession to day, the Penn, Instantaneous Sympathetic copying Ink, sold by Garrott & Co., No. 702, Chesnut Street, Philadelphia. When you write a letter you have only to place the copy paper over your letter and rub it with the hand and your letter, as written, is copied. The Colonel pronounces it useful ink for business men.

ROBBERY.—We understand that on Friday night last, the store of Mr. Beck, about 18 miles north-west of this city, was broken into, and numerous articles abstracted therefrom.

Mildred Foster, a destitute and friendless lunatic, came down to day from Alamance county, under the charge of the Deputy Sheriff of that County, seeking admission into the Asylum, had to be rejected by the Superintendent of that Institution, on account of its crowded condition. Numerous other instances of a similar character, we are told, have occurred. We understand that circulars have been issued by the Superintendent, to the Sheriffs of the various counties, informing them that it is impossible to receive, at present, owing to a lack of room, any more inmates.

THE NEWBERN Journal of Commerce says that the Velocipede fever is still raging in that city. Judging from the appearance that the Capitol Square presents some afternoons and evenings, we are forced to the conclusion that the disease has become epidemic in "these diggins." We honestly believe that if the present authorities would cease their deviltry—called by courtesy legislation,—and turn the Square, Capitol and all, into a Rink, that the State would be vastly benefited thereby.

BRIEF NEWS NOTES.

THE METEOR AS SEEN AT POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y.—Poughkeepsie, May 21, 1869.—At seven minutes past eleven o'clock last night the largest and most brilliant meteor ever witnessed here flashed across the horizon from the southeast to the northeast. It left a long train of scintillating fire and lighted up the entire city. It burst at an altitude of about fifteen degrees above the horizon, giving a light greater than that of the full moon and of a bluish tint.

AS SEEN IN BOSTON.

Boston, May 21, 1869.—Many persons in the streets last night were startled by a flash of scarlet-tinged light, while others saw the meteor, which they describe as of bright scarlet, and to the eye about the size of a twelve pound cannon ball.

LEXINGTON, KY., May 21.—Notwithstanding the rain fell pretty heavily, the attendance on the course was greater than it has been on any previous day of the meeting. Everybody expected Pompey Payne, who made such fast time on Tuesday last, would distinguish himself. In the pools he was the favorite against the field four to one. The race was for the Citizens' stake, for colts and fillies three years old, two mile heats. Three out of the ten entries started, and the result as follows:

Gen. A. Buford's b. c. Versailles	3	2	1
Frank Harper's ch. Dublin	3	1	2
George Cadwallader's b. c. Pompey Payne	1	3	3

Time—3:39½; 3:48½; 4:01½; 4:00¼.

A telegram from Mr. Goodwin, General Ticket agent of the Central Pacific Railroad, states that they will not prorate, with or accept coupons from any other railroad company. Their fare will be ten cents per mile in gold, which makes the passage from St. Louis to Sacramento two hundred and twenty dollars and thirty cents.

REMARKABLE PRESENIMENT.—At Lawrence, Mass., about six weeks ago, a resident, who had been sick for some time told his friends a dream that he had the night before. It was that he was very soon to leave this world and take with him his grandson, then a healthy boy at school.—About two weeks after, the lad was taken sick, and the grandfather was so firmly convinced that his dream would be fulfilled, that he warned those about him that medicine would do the boy no good. The lad died a day or two ago, notwithstanding all efforts to save him, and his relative remarked that he should follow him in a few hours. He died the next day.

It is proposed to construct ships so as to readily furnish raft by which the lives of the passengers and crew may be saved in case the vessel shows signs of foundering at sea. The plan is to secure a portion of the deck to the ship's frame) two thick bands of india rubber being laid between to prevent leakage) by three stout bolts on each side. In the hour of danger, let the nuts be partially unscrewed, and at the critical moment let the bolts be knocked out. This portion of the deck, it is asserted, will then float off with its living freight, the bulwarks at each end affording some protection to the ship wrecked crews.

Ex Mayor Brooks, of Norfolk, Va., (a military appointee,) was publicly cowhided in the streets of that city on Monday last by Miss Ellen Carter. Brooks had defamed the character of Miss Carter, who made efforts to ascertain if her slanderer had property which would be liable in action for defamation. Finding that he was utterly worthless, she took the law into her own hands, and catching him on the streets administered a severe hiding. Brook's wife and several neighbors looked on without interfering.

A Southern Historical Society has been formed at New Orleans, whose object is to collect reliable data of the workings of the late Confederate government, and the battles, sieges and exploits of the war. Rev. Dr. Palmer, of New Orleans, is President of the society, and General Braxton Bragg, Vice-President for Louisiana, General R. E. Lee for Virginia, Gen. Breckinridge for Kentucky, and Alexander H. Stephens for Georgia.

PEN AND INK SKETCHES OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA, AS IT HAS BEEN.

DEDICATED TO THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE, AND TO THE ALUMNI OF THE UNIVERSITY.

NO. 10.

GOV. SWAINS ADMINISTRATION.

Gov. Swain may have been too parental in cases requiring discipline, but I do not think that in reviewing his administration even when most inclined to criticise himself severely, he ever regretted that he had leaned too much to mercy's side. He thought that for the young there was always hope, and he shrank from branding the opening of a young life with the sentence of expulsion or dismission in disgrace from college. He would condescend to an erring boy, rather than give him up. Those however who presumed on this well known disposition of his found that when he did pronounce sentence, no man could do it with more dignity, or just severity. Yet he always kept his temper.

One of the many instances of his long suffering towards offenders, which some called temporizing,—lowering the dignity of his office, and the like, came under my immediate notice fifteen or twenty years ago.

THE MISSISSIPPIAN.

A student from the South-west who had for several sessions maintained a high rank as student and gentleman, began in the Junior year to fall off, and go wrong. Remonstrance, and advice, and the milder measures of discipline having one after another failed, the Faculty sent home a report which spoke faithfully of the decline. This the youth,—as college boys will do—resented highly, and all the more that he felt the justice of it. He accused the Professors of partiality, unfair dealing, injustice &c., and left college in high indignation. The Professors generally felt his departure a relief. His talents were so considerable, and his influence so great that he had become an injury to others, as well as a thorn in their sides. But Gov. Swain grieved over the lost boy like a father over his son. He thought only of his former promise, and what he might yet be if he could be reached. He wrote to him, but the reply received would have discouraged any other man from further attempts. The Governor then interested a lady in the case who only knew the young man by reputation, having never seen him then, or at any time since. She wrote him, at Gov. Swain's instance, such a letter of friendly remonstrance and of kindly appeal to his ambition and all his better feelings, as only a woman can write; a letter that brought at once a letter of thanks to her, and a penitent and apologetic reply to Gov. Swain, and brought the student himself next session, resolved to begin anew. And he did, graduating in a year or two with distinction, and the respect of all his teachers, and returning home to begin life fairly and well,—the pride of his family. Gov. Swain thought such an effort as this worth making. He would congratulate himself all his life upon such an issue.

AS TO SCHOLARSHIPS.

Gov. Swain, I know, resisted some of the members of his Faculty in certain proposed changes and modifications in the plan of study and the amount required. He had many ways of avoiding what he did not like to do, or have done. It must be remembered, in estimating him here, that he was not a bookish man. He was eminently in all his beliefs and modes of action a man of the world. What power he had, and he had a great deal, was of his own acquisition among men more than among books. I think it very likely that he did undervalue the discipline of mere hard study and patient thought. He liked sympathy with scholarship per se, as a source of "sweetness and light." He set no great value upon accumulations of books. He did not amass much of such "dead capital" for himself; he did not encourage the University to do so. The University and Library remains now as to numbers and value pretty much as Dr. Caldwell left it, with the exception of the addition made when the University purchased Dr. Mitchell's Library after his death. It is a valuable collection of some seven thousand volumes, but their value is mainly of forty years ago. There was certainly harder study required in Dr. Caldwell's day and closer teaching of text-books—but under Gov. Swain the teaching was more objective,—had more breadth,—When he used books he used them with great power. He would see at a glance, and take up and handle with ease, principles and deductions that other men would master only after much labor.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Many invaluable improvements and regulations were introduced under Gov. Swain's influence. He instituted a connected record of Faculty proceedings,—an uninterrupted series of reports to the Trustees twice a year,—regular quarterly reports on scholarships and deportment recorded at the University, and also sent home to parents and guardians—written examinations which gradually increased in length and intensified in strictness. He also introduced the regular weekly Faculty meetings—and after a time caused that they be opened with prayer. At these meetings the College roll was always read twice, once for absences, and once for general or specific remarks. They were held every Friday night, and at first from house to house of the President and Professors. Cake and wine and fruits were always provided as a wind-up to "faculty meeting" for many years, till the Temperance movement throughout the country led to the discontinuance of this part of the exercises. At this day we can hardly realize how universal the practice of using stimulants was in the last generation. I have heard old inhabitants say that when Dr. Caldwell went out to oversee a clearing he would carry a jug of whiskey along for the hands.

VISITING THE STUDENTS.

One of Gov. Swain's most valuable qualifications was his inducing the Faculty to take weekly turns in visiting the students at night at their rooms, in semi official, semi-social way. In the performance of this duty there were, of course, many opportunities of close observation—closer acquaintance with the young men. The social intercourse was of advantage to both student and Professor, bringing them into more forcible relations with, and a better understanding of each other. I have heard old Chapel Hill graduates in the far West speak with delight and gratitude of these evenings with their Professors.

THE CAMPUS.

Walling in the college campus with stone and beautifying the grounds with shrubbery and flowers, was another improvement due to Gov. Swain. For this purpose he had regular bred gardeners employed at a small salary. The last who held this office was an Englishman named Paxton, a relative of the Duke of Devonshire's famous gardener, Sir Joseph Paxton, who was knighted by Prince Albert, at the first Crystal Palace Exhibition in 1851. I believe the idea of a glass building originated with him. Our Paxton understood his business well. Everything that he put in the ground grew and flourished forthwith.

THE NEW BUILDINGS.

The University funds being managed with economy and prudence, in the course of time its resources enabled it to add to the old buildings, and to build new. The first improvement was the converting of Person Hall, or "the old Chapel" as it was long called, into Recitation Halls, and having the "new Chapel," (Girard Hall) which had long remained half finished, completed and fitted up for College exercises. Dr. Caldwell's idea had been, that the main street of the village being a continuation of the Raleigh road, ought to run South of the College buildings, and accordingly when Girard Hall was put up, the front of it was turned toward what after all, eventually became the back-ground of the building. And so it has remained, "hind side before," ever since. It has always been a dreary institution,—the homeliest of all College Chapels, and even on Commencement days, when lit up and graced with all that the State could show of Beauty, Brains and Blood, it was still incapable of a single good effect. The next change was the lengthening of the old East and West buildings by extensive additions, removing the Library rooms of the Di and Phi Societies, which were in the third story of the South to more commodious and handsome quarters in the new extensions, (though still in the third stories.)

THE FIRST DI. PRESIDENT.

This was done in 1848, and on occasion of inaugurating the new Halls, the venerable and Hon. James Mebane, of Orange, who had been first President of the Dialectic Society at its organization in 1795, came, in his old age, to preside once more over the Di's, and give dignity and fresh interest to the occasion. His portrait was painted soon after by request of the Society, and now adorns a third Di. Hall far handsomer than either of its predecessors.

SMITH HALL.

In 1852 Smith Hall was completed.—This elegant building was intended for the University Library room, but as it has turned out, was never used for any other purpose than a ball room. And, in fact, it has always gone by the name of "the ball-room," greatly to the disgust of those who deemed it very little to the credit of it.—Carolinians that in these latter days they, who have always been charged of spending money, should spend $20,000 on a ball-room. I have never seen a book on its ample shelves, though I believe the Uni. Library was placed there for a short time.—But it being so often thrown open to the public for quite other than literary purposes, made it an insecure asylum for books, and these venerable inmates were accordingly remanded to their accustomed hiding place. It used to be said facetiously that Gov. Swain's idea of a Library was to put it in the garret, since all the Libraries, belonging to College in his day, have invariably been stowed in some third or fourth story. In case of a fire, it would be impossible to save them.

THE DEAD AT MALVERN HILL.—It is a pleasure to state, after due inquiry, that the report in regard to the desecration of graves on the Malvern Hill battle-field is greatly exaggerated, if not entirely incorrect. The fight took place on the land of a Mr. Crew, whose son now owns the farm. The latter gentleman requests us to state that a portion of land adjoining an old family burial-place was given the day succeeding the battle as a burial place for those who had been killed in the battle. As the troops were still encamped upon the place, the bodies of nearly all their comrades were deposited in the spot designated. A few, however, in expectation of a speedy removal, were buried near a road through the farm. Most of these (there are probably two bodies remaining at this spot) were removed in a week or two by their friends. Besides, there was a long trench opened to receive the bodies of the Federal soldiers killed on the field. These are believed to be all taken up and removed to the National Cemetery near by. These were all the graves known to be on the place. But there have recently been discovered five other separate graves, in a field, having no mound or mark or distinguish them. The manager on the farm has been instructed to note the places, that he may point them out to the committee when they go down to remove them. This is believed to be a true and full statement of the case as far as "Crew's farm" is the burial-place of the Malvern Hill battle.—Richmond Dispatch.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, May 25.—The sale of the New Orleans, Opelousas and Great Western Railroad took place this morning by virtue of an order from the U. S. Circuit Court, under the auspices of Ex U. S. Marshal F. J. Herron. The principal interests represented were the Illinois Central Railroad, the Mobile and Chattanooga Railroad, bondholders of the road, and Charles Morgan. The first bid was a million, the next a million and a half. The bids then proceeded by the hundred thousand to two million, which was bid by Mr. Paul Blanc in behalf of the bondholders of the road, to which amount he was limited. C. A. Whitney, representing Charles Morgan, bid two million and fifty thousand, at which amount it was knocked down after a moment's pause, and $75,000 was immediately paid as a guarantee. Mr. Whitney announced that it was the intention of Mr Morgan, who himself was present, to immediately set about extending the road to the Sabine. The actual sale occupied barely ten minutes.

The Commercial Convention adjourned over till Wednesday, and delegates are on an inspecting tour to the mouth of the Mississippi to-day.

FOREIGN.

HAVANA, May 24.—The following official account of the landing of fillibusters in the Eastern Department is made public:

Seven hundred men disembarked on the night of the 16th, in the bay of Nipe, and quietly took position, mounting six guns and fortifying three houses. They remained undiscovered thirty-six hours. Capt. Moses attacked them with 150 men, using the bayonet. He stormed one of the houses and captured the flag, but was finally obliged to retire, his ammunition giving out.—The fillibusters fired three cannon shot into the steamer Marsella, damaging her hull and rigging. The flag captured by Captain Moses is inscribed, "Riberos libertad," and was presented by Emilio Casanova.

It is now said the troops took the six guns and turned them against the fillibusters, and spiked the guns before they fell back.

SAY OF THE

BROOKLYN LIFE!

"A Company that makes such endorsements on its policies, gives the strongest pledge that it will fulfil its trust faithfully, and keep its reserves sufficient."—HON. ELIJAH WARD.

"The BROOKLYN LIFE has placed itself in the vanguard of insurance reform, and is the first Company that has done full and complete justice to the insured."—INSURANCE TIMES, Jan. 1869.

THE BROOKLYN LIFE, ALONE OF ALL OTHER LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES, GUARANTEES A DEFINITE SURRENDER-VALUE IN CASH, AND EVERY POLICY ISSUED BY THAT COMPANY, BEARS A CERTIFICATE STATING WHAT THIS EXACT WORTH WILL BE IN DOLLARS AND CENTS, AT ANY TIME, AFTER THE PAYMENT OF TWO OR MORE PREMIUMS.

"The BROOKLYN LIFE has made no half-way work of the adoption of this inestimable feature. It is noteworthy, in this connection, as a merited tribute to the excellent Company (Brooklyn Life,) which has so gallantly raised the standard of reform in Life Insurance, that we find in the whole list of existing Companies, few competitors which deserve so much credit in respect of economy of management, or care, skill and judgment in the selection of risks."—INS. The BROOKLYN LIFE has paid, and now pays to its policy-holders, LARGER DIVIDENDS than ever before paid by a Life Insurance Company!

Dividends are paid IN CASH, or applied to the permanent increase of the policy, or left with the Company to accumulate at interest, in either way, at the option of the policy-holder.

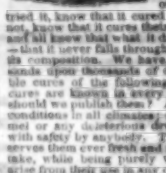
Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.



Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have, and can show, thousands upon thousands of certificates of remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and why should we publish them? Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither mineral or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the disordered action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it generally produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus. There are numerous cases where a purgative is required, which we cannot enumerate here, but they suggest themselves to everybody, and where the virtues of this Pill are known, the public no longer doubt what to employ.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with the antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that it is unnecessary to publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

A BACHELOR'S SOLILOQUY ON WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

O, what is this fuss all about,
Throughout the whole country? (ahem.)
Are there rights to be had, they are by our own side,
For we are not equal with them.

Let them talk of a voice at the polls;
Already they've absolute sway,
For do not three-fourths of all married men
Vote just as the dear creatures say?

O, I cannot wait for the time
When woman her true rights shall see,
When she shall be on the same footing with us,
And hol's grain better than we.

Then when I get into the cars
I can sit like a king on his throne;
If a woman comes in and the seats are all filled,
Why, then, ma'am, my seat is my own.

The lecture-room, too, will be blest,
For no one my place will demand,
I shall then have a right to recline at my ease,
And she'll have as good right to stand.

Should I chance to be out in a crowd
When the rain got sends one of his showers
Why, then my umbrella can shield my own head,
Theirs would not be better than ours.

When I go to a concert or dance,
Or whatever else it may be,
She'll have a right to pay half of the bills,
And not all of them come out of me.

But what is the best of it all,
If ever I courting should go,
She'll have a chance the question to pop,
And I'll have the chance to say "No."

PAID IN FULL.

It is no longer a question with any man, who tenderly loves his wife and children, who considers how helpless would be their condition in case of his death, as to the duty of taking out a LIFE POLICY, but as to which Company he shall pay his money.

If he reflects a moment he will conclude to patronize the Company which shows the greatest degree of vitality, which extends its business over the largest area, which is a Home Company in every locality; which furnishes insurance at the least cost; which issues no policies that are forfeitable should he be unable next year, or any subsequent year to pay his renewal; and which is undoubtedly able to meet ALL ITS PROMISES.

With these feelings and views, he looks over the newspapers, and, by the time he gets through reading the advertisements of Mutual or Mixed Companies, he finds his mind so muddled that he is at a loss where to go or what to do. He can not comprehend one-half that is written, and concludes that none but ACTUARIES, who are familiar with the principles upon which Life Insurance is based can comprehend or explain anything about dividends and his liability for notes given in part payment of premiums. In his dilemma, he looks into the plan adopted by the

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

U. S. A.,

and finds just what he wants:

An ALL CASH PLAN, reduced to the LOWEST MINIMUM Rate, like any commodity in Market, so much Insurance for so much Money. No notes to give; no interest to pay; no anxiety about Assessments; no apprehension of his Policy being forfeited next year if he does not pay his annual Renewal; and the RATES so much LOWER than other Companies, that he realizes a larger Dividend, IN ADVANCE, than other Companies can pay him in the future.

He finds that, instead of this UNCERTAIN PROMISE, and present high rate, that the presents a certain and definite sum for a much lower rate, and puts up its paid up Capital of

as a guarantee fund, that its contracts will be fulfilled, and, like thousands of others, cheerfully calls on their Agent to make his application for a Policy. Hence the unprecedented and most wonderful success of the NATIONAL as contrasted with the older and Mutual Companies.

The Company issued its first policy on the 1st of August, 1868, and up to March 1st, 1869, it had issued 3,582 policies.

Amount insured,	$10,005,550.00
Total Premiums,	350,117.03

The whole number issued by the Connecticut Mutual in the first year of its existence was 892

By the Mutual Benefit of New Jersey, 690
" New England Mutual, 343
" Phœnix Mutual, 335
" Massachusetts Mutual, 312
" Equitable of New York, 277

The Mutual Life, of New York, in the first year of its existence, only issued 470 policies.

In its 10th year, $1,260 "
And in its 20th year, 2,812 "

this latter being 630 less than was issued by the NATIONAL in its first seven months.

CAPITAL OF THE STATE,

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

The RALEIGH SENTINEL having passed under the Editorial management of the undersigned, it will, from the present date, be conducted by him.

It will be the zealous and fearless advocate of the CONSTITUTION of the United States, seeking to bring the people back to their ancient reverence for that immortal instrument, and to restore the policy of the country to that honored standard, as the only guarantee of National prosperity.

It will do justice to the men and measures of the present day, whenever they may merit it, but it will unsparingly lash and denounce all who set themselves up in opposition to the Federal Constitution, and hold up to the public indignation corruption and imbecility in high places.

It will ardently seek the promotion of the best interests of North Carolina,—moral, educational, material and political.

THE LATEST NEWS

From every quarter, both by mail and telegraph will be carefully collated and presented.

Full and correct market and financial reports will be given.

And, in one word, no effort will be spared to make the SENTINEL, in all respects, a reliable

Feb 11-tf J. A. JONES, Raleigh, N. C.

CAUTION! WE desire to warn the dealers in, and consumers of Snuff generally, that since the war, certain Tobacco Manufacturers, being unable to find a market for their snuffs, felt themselves obliged to counterfeit the general appearance of our packages, and imitate our Trade Marks, so that a close inspection is necessary to detect the spurious article from the genuine, and others going so far as to assert that "Lorillard's Snuff is no longer made."

In making this publication we desire to warn the public against the impositions practised upon them, as they are the losers thereby. It will be found, upon comparison, that Lorillard's Snuff is "far ahead" of all others, being made of the best stock, after an original and secret process known only to ourselves, besides possessing great age, strength and pungency, and is warranted not to contain any dangerous or deleterious substances, which cannot be said of many worthless articles put on sale by others. The best is the cheapest in the end. A circular will always be mailed on application. In ordering please specify if Salt Snuff (High Toast,) or Fresh Snuff (Extra Scotch) is desired.

NEW METHOD OF WASHING CLOTHES WITHOUT LABOR.

THE AUTOMATIC

CLOTHES WASHER AND BOILER.

THIS BOILER IS MOST EFFECTUAL, reliable and universally recommended. It can be used on any Stove or Range, in any boiler, and the LOW PRICE of the article places it within the reach of every family.

This Boiler operates upon purely philosophical principles, is self-acting, and dispenses with labor and the wear of the clothes.

The hot suds and steam, by the action of heat, are driven up through tubes, poured upon the clothes, and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing all articles, from the finest laces to the bed-blanket. For Flannels it is invaluable, as it does not full them as in the old process of rubbing and pressing.

The time required for cleansing a boiler full of clothes is twenty to thirty minutes, and nearly three hundred gallons of boiling suds are forced through the fabric, thoroughly loosening and eradicating the dirt WITHOUT LABOR or friction.—A thorough rinsing finishes the process.

Washing day will no longer be a terror and dread to housewives. The cost of the Boiler will soon be returned in the SAVING OF TIME AND LABOR, and the great saving in the wear of clothes.

The great value of this invention appears so clear, and appeals so directly to common sense, that we have deemed it unnecessary to accompany its introduction with numerous letters of approval, &c.

No invention has met with such ready sale and given such satisfaction. Call at LOUGEE & BROTHERS, and see its wonderful operations.—We have the exclusive right to sell and manufacture in the state.
